Hannah's Experience:

Hannah graduated Griffith University with a Bachelor in Popular Music in 2016 and has over 10 years of writing and performing experience under the alias "Athena Joy". Receiving both piano and singing lessons herself from the age of 10 years old, she completed AMEB Singing for Leisure and Piano grades 1-3 before realising her passion for more contemporary and practical based learning. She continued to hone her skills through recording and performing in musicals and gigs around her hometown of Coffs Harbour.

Since moving to Queensland in 2014 she has been nominated for both Gold Coast and Queensland music awards for her original music, independently recorded and released 2 EP's, received a scholarship to write and record in the United States and regularly gigs around the South-East Queensland Music scene.

Her teaching philosophy is that nourishing a student's love of music should be first and foremost. She has assisted singers of all ages with a range of vocal abilities in improving their performance skills and vocal technique. She has helped support students along their journey with joining bands and performing at local venues. Ultimately Hannah loves the pleasure of watching her students succeed and getting the most out of their abilities.
